Interview

Railway Pro offers an opportunity to a key industry figure from your company to address the railway business community and explain how your business is performing.

Building the New CE Railway Economy

Regional Rail Link (RRL) is a reference project of American transportation system which is an important bridge between the railway network. The project worth over USD 4.8 Billion (2.9B 5.5 Billion) includes the construction of 90 km of new railway line, West Waver Junction to Deer Park and, along the existing cables, on the line from San Jose to Southern Class System, providing services in terms of the passenger, freight and bulk, through the inter-section.
